SUGAR REPORT

gar circular for Aug. 31 says: SUGAR MARKET .- Our last

SUGAR MARKET—Our last report was dated 24th August.

The raw sugar market has been dull and uneventful throughout the week, business in spot and nearby sugars being restricted, owing to the small quantities offered, and to refiners having fair supplies for their current wants. It is probable that an advance of 1-16c, would bring out some larger parcels from Cuba and from store, but, at the most, and if holders became free sellers, the quantity thus coming on the market for prompt shipment or immediate spot delivery could hardly exceed a week's meltings.

At the same time, refiners show no

At the same time, refiners show no fear of experiencing difficulty in replenishing their stocks once the period arrives when they shall require to do so, and they prefer to wait and pay whatever price may then be ruling, rather than advance the market now in anticipation of later wants, the extent of which will be dependent on the demand they meet with for their refined product. There is every prospect that this demand will be large enough to call for meltings reaching from 400,000 to 450,000 tons in September and October.

A factor of much importance in determining the future of the market will be the duration of the revoit in Cuba. Should it not be repressed before October, the crop prospects will be less favorable, as labor will be disorganized in the disturbed districts and the supply for later harvesting requirements will be diminished. Up to the present time it cannot be said that the coming crop has been affected by the disturbances but the longer restoration of order is delayed, the greater will be the risk of loss to the planters.

The European beet markets showed a sain at the beginning of the week. At the same time, refiners show no ed by the disturbances but the longer restoration of order is delayed, the greater will be the risk of loss to the planters.

The European beet markets showed a gain at the beginning of the week, on further purchases for American account, and this has been fully maintained. The American purchases are understood to have been limited to about 19,000 tons present crop, for September shipment, at a price on the parity of 4c. for 96-degree Centrifugals, Now crop, October shipment, has been offered at the equivalent of 3.96c. for Centrifugals, The weather is favorable for the ripening of the roots, Today's f. o. b, quotations are: August, 9s. 51-4d.; September, 9s. 51-4d.; New Crop, October-December, 9s. 13-4d.; January-March, 9s. 21-2d.

It is not considered exactly the thing in Chinese polite circles to call a man a white-haired, spotted faced brute. It is liable to cause hard feelings, Yet that is what Chung Chock Lai is alleged to have called Wong How in an article published in the Hawalian Chinese News of May 15, 1966. As a consequence Lai was arrested recently on a warrant sworn out by Wong How, charging him with libel in the drst degree. In the translation of the article in question, which is appended It is not considered exactly the thing first degree. In the translation of the article in question, which is appended to the complaint, Wong How, or Yellow Mouth as he is called in the article, is characterized as a "brute whose hair is white and whose face is covered with spots."
